Jubilee Year of Mercy

“Merciful like the Father”

“Jesus does not limit himself merely to affirming his love, but makes it visible and tangible. Love, after all, can never be just an abstraction. By its very nature, it indicates something concrete: intentions, attitudes, and behaviours that are shown in daily living”,

Pope Francis, The Face of Mercy 230. #9. Question: How have you contemplated God's mercy in your lifestyle?

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time Year C
2nd - 3rd July 2016

Called and sent

In today's Gospel reading we hear the fascinating story of Jesus sending out seventy two people to the places where he himself intended to go. Jesus gives them some instructions regarding what they can do and what they cannot. One instruction that inspired me was “don't move from house to house.” This instruction speaks about being stable in one's life.

Jesus was a radical person and also was radically dependent on God (Father). He did not own things (as we heard in last week's Gospel, for “the Son of Man has no place to lay his head”), and he wants his disciples to also own as little as possible so that their focus is on spreading the Reign of God as Jesus himself did. Jesus had a single minded focus on realising the reign of God here and now and he worked towards it wholeheartedly.

When Jesus says, “don't move from house to house” he talks about the stability of one's focus on spreading the reign of God. If the disciple is busy seeking his/her own comfort and keeps moving from place to place, he/she will lose their focus on their work of spreading God's reign. He/she will move away from their basic call. He/she will be busy seeking worldly comfort than the realisation of God's reign. That is why Jesus emphasises on being stable at one place.

Secondly, it also means that one is able to develop friendship and possibly a relationship with the people of that house. If the disciple keeps moving from house to house, he/she will miss out on the opportunity to develop the relationship. As the residents of Central Australia, we all know how crucial it is to develop our relationship with our neighbours. These relationships help us build a better society, as opposed to being anonymous.

Dear friends in Christ Jesus, let us take this message from Jesus today and work towards building our relationship with one another and focus on spreading the reign of God here and now. The call is clear and straight forward. We are the Disciples of Christ and we have a responsibility to work for the reign of God. So let us not lose our focus by worrying too much of our own comfort, rather, let us depend on God as Jesus did and work towards building a better world filled with God's love. Then we also will be felicitated by Jesus, when he says, “rejoice ... for your names are written in heaven.”

Fr Prakash Menezes SVD

We acknowledge the original custodians of this land and pay our respects to the Elders both past, present and future for they hold the memories, the traditions, the culture and hopes of Indigenous Australia. As we share our faith within our Catholic family we also acknowledge those that paved the way to give us our Church and Parish and welcome all into our community.

Good News for Readers in the Liturgy:

The Parish copies of 'Break Open the Word' have arrived and are available for borrowing from the Priest's Sacristy. Feel free to borrow a copy in preparation for reading the week you are on the roster. Simply return the book on the day you read so that they are available for the next set of rostered readers.

Extraordinary Ministers of Communion

At the end of the distribution of Communion during the celebration of Eucharist, the extraordinary ministers now take the sacred vessels to a specially prepared area in the Sacristy to purify and clean them in preparation for the next liturgy. The ministers do this reverently and in silence. Once the sacred vessels are purified, the ministers move quietly to the usual place for the concluding rites of the liturgy. The purifying of the vessels is very important to do but it is not a feature of the liturgy and therefore does not need to be visible to the congregation.

Information on Fr Raass and the Teachers

As we are aware that Fr Raass, our Parish Priest, and the teachers from CEO are on a pilgrimage in Greece and Turkey. They are safe and are doing well as they did not have to travel to Istanbul on the day of the bomb blast in the Istanbul International Airport. Message from Fr Raass, "The CEO pilgrims are all okay. We are on transit to Greece from Qatar as I write. Please pray for the recent victims at Istanbul and we appreciate the prayers from the Diocese. We are due for Istanbul in three weeks' time. God wills!!!"

We pray for their safe travel and remember all the victims of the attack.

Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults

The RCIA Journey usually begins at this time of the year, and so if anyone from another Christian Community, or anyone who isn't a Christian, is interested in becoming a Catholic Sr. Helen Kennedy FMM, the OLSH Parish RCIA Director, can be contacted on 0448856323. Parishioners, if you know of someone who would be interested in becoming a Candidate (that is, they are already baptized in another Christian Denomination) or a Catechumen (seeking baptism), kindly introduce them to this opportunity.

CHILDREN

Before reading the Gospel, explain to the children that the disciples were learning from Jesus how to go about the task of spreading the Good News of God's love and peace. Read the Gospel and lead the children to understand that this was a new job for the disciples and Jesus was teaching them what to do and what to take with them on the road. Invite the children to recall what the disciples had to do when they entered the houses they visited. What did Jesus ask them not to take with them as they travelled? Jesus was teaching the disciples that they did not have to worry about material things too much but to spread the Good News. We can do this too, just by the way we live our own lives. We don't need to have lots of money or own lots of things to bring God's love and peace to others.

Parish Priests' Movements

Fr Prakash, along with three of the youth members of CYAS is in Darwin for the Breakaway Retreat. He will be back in the Parish on Tuesday, 5th July. Please pray for their retreat.

NAIDOC Week

This week is NAIDOC week (3-10th July) and an opportunity for us to make conscious effort to participate in the activities planned for this week in our town. It is also a good time to learn more about our Aboriginal People and if possible spend time with each other and develop a relationship and build friendships. Let us pray for all the good works that are being done this week and throughout the year towards the empowerment of our Aboriginal brothers and sisters

OLSH Parish Vision and Mission Planning, 2016-2020.

After three solid weekends of deliberations, brainstorming and prayer, the Parish Pastoral Council has unanimously consented to propose to all parishioners our OLSH Parish Vision until 2020. There was a great sense of excitement as councillors agreed to propose it to you:

OLSH Parish in Central Australia, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, is a family of God actively engaging in Jesus' Dream to bring justice, compassion and love to all of creation.

Please bear in mind this is a proposal to the parish body. We ask you to pray, reflect and discuss it until such a time when we'll invite responses, objections and comments. In the meantime the PPC, as appointed leaders of the parish, will resume its work on our Mission Objectives in the light of the proposed vision, Pope Francis' universal pastoral projects and our Diocesan plans.

DID YOU KNOW?

- The IMAGE Of the vineyard is often used in the Old Testament as an image of God's people. They must be tended to and cultivated well so that the harvest is a rich one.
- The Church has always understood its main function to be one of announcing the gospel to others. This is the mission of the Church and the work is carried out by missionaries.
- All baptised people are called to be a part of this missionary activity of the Church.

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time Year C

2nd –3rd July 2016

Entrance Antiphon:

Your merciful love, O God, we have received in the midst of your temple. Your praise, O God, like your name, reaches to the ends of the earth; your right hand is filled with saving justice.

Ps 47:10-11

First Reading:

Isaiah 66:10-14

I will send toward Jerusalem peace like a river.

Rejoice, Jerusalem, be glad for her, all you who love her! Rejoice, rejoice for her, all you who mourned her! That you may be suckled, filled, from her consoling breast, that you may savour with delight her glorious breasts. For thus says the Lord: Now towards her I send flowing peace, like a river, and like a stream in spate the glory of the nations. At her breast will her nurslings be carried and fondled in her lap. Like a son comforted by his mother will I comfort you. And by Jerusalem you will be comforted. At the sight your heart will rejoice, and your bones flourish like the grass. To his servants the Lord will reveal his hand.

The word of the Lord

Responsorial Psalm:

Ps 65:1-7,16,20

R/ Let all the earth cry out to God with joy.

Second Reading:

Galatians 6:14-18

The marks I carry on my body are those of Jesus Christ.

The only thing I can boast about is the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom the world is crucified to me, and I to the world. It does not matter if a person is circumcised or not; what matters is for him to become an altogether new creature. Peace and mercy to all who follow this rule, who form the Israel of God. I want no more trouble from anybody after this; the marks on my body are those of Jesus. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, my brothers. Amen.

The word of the Lord

Gospel Acclamation:

Col 3:15,16

Alleluia, alleluia! May the peace of Christ reign in your hearts, and the fullness of his message live within you.
Alleluia!

Gospel:

Luke 10:1-12,17-20

Your peace will rest upon him.

The Lord appointed seventy-two others and sent them out ahead of him, in pairs, to all the towns and places he himself was to visit. He said to them, 'The harvest is rich but the labourers are few, so ask the Lord of the harvest to send labourers to his harvest. Start off now, but remember, I am sending you out like lambs among wolves. Carry no purse, no haversack, no sandals. Salute no one on the road. Whatever house you go into, let your first word be, 'Peace to this house!' And if a man of peace lives there, your peace will go and rest on him; if not, it will come back to you. Stay in the same house, taking what food and drink they have to offer, for the labourer deserves his wages; do not move from house to house. Whenever you go into a town where they make you welcome, eat what is set before you. Cure those in it who are sick and say, "The kingdom of God is very near you." But whenever you enter a town and they do not make you welcome, go out into its streets and say, "We wipe off the very dust of your town that clings to our feet, and leave it with you. Yet be sure of this: the kingdom of God is very near." I tell you, on that day it will not go as hard with Sodom as with that town." The seventy-two came back rejoicing. 'Lord, they said 'even the devils submit to us when we use your name.' He said to them, 'I watched Satan fall like lightning from heaven. Yes, I have given you power to tread underfoot serpents and scorpions and the whole strength of the enemy; nothing shall ever hurt you. Yet do not rejoice that the spirits submit to you; rejoice rather that your names are written in heaven.'
